RELATIONSHIP INTELLIGENCE

One-to-One or Group Experience

(online programme)

#eiromania

WHAT IS IT?

Under current global circumstances, stress takes a toll on our relationships. The health of our relationships impacts our environments, our mental health, our drive and engagement. Every outcome relies on our ability to work well, communicate and solve issues with others. The best results are created through relationships.

This Relationship Intelligence (RQ) Online Experience is built around the motivational and relationship tool SDI® »A manual for working with others«. The programme is suitable for anyone wishing to gain an insight into why we do the things we do, what drives each and every one of us, the strengths we have and how to value them, how to make interactions more effective and how to manage differences in people.

WHY JOIN?

- Obtain the best results through relationships
